

Scotland's Land-Based and Aquaculture Industries

Scotland's environment reaches from the mountains to the seas, and there are lots of people working hard to care for it and produce enough healthy food and other resources for us all.

Here are some ideas about the great jobs you can do in the countryside caring for Planet Earth.

Horticulture

Growing plants for gardens, public parks and green spaces or for sale.

Environmental Conservation

Keeping Earth safe and healthy by taking care of our air, water, animal and plant life.

Game and Wildlife

Managing the countryside for game birds and animals.

Trees and Timber

Growing and harvesting trees and managing forestry areas for wildlife.

Land-Based Engineering

Taking care of the machinery used in farming, forestry and gardening.

Agriculture and Crofting

Farming the land by growing and harvesting crops and rearing animals.

Fisheries Management

Protecting rivers and the life in them.

Equine

Anything and everything to do with horses, ponies and donkeys.

Aquaculture

Rearing fish and shellfish, and growing and harvesting aquatic plants.
